VOLUME XXXI. UKIAH CITY, MENDOCINO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 30, 1900. NUMBER 27

TOWN AND COMMUNITY.

Local Brieflets About Some People You Know.

Many Short Items Concerning the Happenings of The Week.

W. P. McFaul was a visitor in town this week.

Jake Newcomer and wife were visiting in the metropolis last week.

Alex Kultron was killed in the Rockport woods last week while logging.

Parker Hall, the genial postmaster of Willits, was down on business Tuesday.

Miss Grace Marders spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents in Potter valley.

Sylvester Donohoe brot down 530 head of hogs from Humboldt county last week for Edwards Bros., of this city.

Copper prospects are said to be good near Hopland and much interest is being manifested in the enterprise. Prospecting for oil in this vicinity will also be begun about April 1st.

J. P. Lowe, the harness man, has leased a lot just opposite the "Donahue" and is erecting a building thereon and will soon remove his shop from the Eagle block to this place.

Pony Hughes is treating the outside of the "Blue Wing" to a fresh coat of blue paint. It greatly adds to the looks of the place.

J. Q. White, one of the attorneys in the White will case, is still on the sick list. He has attended court most of the time, still he is a very sick man.

Local hop men have been busy the past week plowing and pruning hops. The nice warm weather has been very beneficial and has enabled the growers to make much progress.

Oscar Sanford and Victor McClure, who have rented the Douglass hop ranch, have contracted 20,000 lbs. of this year's hop crop for 9¼ cents per pound. They sold last year's hops for 9 cents.

Chas. A. Towne, chairman of the national committee of the Silver Republicans, has called a convention to be held at Kansas City on July 4th to endorse the nominations of the Democratic party.

Ex-Congressman T. J. Geary intends to leave for Cape Nome about May 1st where he will practice law. He has already been retained by several large steamship companies to look after their interests.

The people of Ukiah have been making many improvements around their homes within the last week by having their yards put in condition and cleaning off the sidewalks. The Improvement Club is working hard and hopes to see the town in excellent trim by Saturday next. Let the good work go on.

James C. Martin, of Healdsburg, and Mrs. Luca A. Coats, of Reno, Nevada, were married in Reno recently by Rev. B. F. Huddelson. They will make their home in Healdsburg in future. Mrs. Martin formerly lived in this city.

The fruit growers of Hopland have incorporated with the object of building a drying and packing house to be ready by July 1st. The officers are: J. R. Banks, president; H. H. Huntington, treasurer; S. E. Brooks, secretary; J. R. Banks, E. Dooley, Sam Duncan, O. R. Meyers and H.H. Huntington, Directors. The capital stock of the company is $3000.

Dr. E. G. Case made a business trip to the city last Thursday.

Mr. Liljiberg was among the coasters called to testify this week.

Lige Bishop and R. F. Sherwood are over from Manchester on a courting expedition.

W. B. Coombs, the Little River merchant, was in town the first of the week on business.

H. B. Hickey, superintendent of the Albion Lumber Co., was courting in town this week.

W. L. Williams came over to the county seat again this week to testify in the White will case.

J. P. Cunningham and wife visited Berkeley last Saturday and incidentally took in the field day.

E. Guy Williams, who has been attending Heald's Business College, returned to this city last Sunday.

John W. Hall, a prominent rancher from Miller, has been attending to business at the county seat this week.

M. A. Gilkison and W. H. Fuller, prominent Greenwood merchants, were among the many coasters in town this week.

Miss Carrie Ganter visited friends in Oakland last Saturday and incidentally took in the field day at Berkeley in the afternoon.

Henry Marks is still confined to his room at the Grand on account of a severe attack of la grippe. His friends hope to see him around soon.

Rev. M. W. Howard, father of ex-recorder Mack Howard, is sick at his home northeast of town. His many friends hope that he may have a speedy recovery.

M. Donohoe and John Conway, two of Greenwood's highly respected citizens, were called to the county seat this week to testify in the White case.

W. L. Williams, M. Donohoe, John Conway and Albert Schillar returned fogward early Tuesday morning, having given in their testimony in the White case.

Dr. R. E. Reese, Greenwood's skillful physician and surgeon, has been attending court this week. He made a flying trip to the city last Saturday, returning Sunday.

The teacher's institute will convene in Fort Bragg on May 7th. Competent instructors have been procured and Supt. Barbee expects to have the best institute this year the county has ever had.

A. W. Schiller, the big democrat from Greenwood, was over as a witness in the White case this week. Mr. Schiller reports his wife, who was seriously ill a few weeks ago, as convalescent now.

Mrs. M. L. Cason and Mrs. M. Sheley arrived in Ukiah Wednesday from Healdsburg and will reside in future about two miles north of town on the Fred Pitner place which they recently purchased.

Mr. Fen S. Hildreth, formerly of this city, but now of Kingman, Arizona, and Miss Stella Martin were married in Prescott, Arizona, on March 20th. Fen has many friends in this city who wish him and his pretty bride a long life of happiness.

Among the Ukiahites who took in the field day at Berkeley last Saturday were Mary McCowen, Clara Westerman, Alma Merwin, Jessie Standley, Margaret Smith, Edna Reeves, Safa Paine, Lulu Ames, F. L. Caughey and wife, and P. B. Westerman. They went along to cheer the Ukiah braves on to victory and succeeded admirably.

Dr. E. G. Case, Ukiah's popular dentist, has recently fitted up his dental office in excellent taste. Besides repapering and recarpeting the reception room he has put in a new dental chair of the latest make and a beautiful new cabinet in the dental parlor, all of which add much to the appearance of the office, making it one of the best equipped offices north of San Francisco.

WHITE CASE STILL CONTINUES

The Contestants Close Their Side of the Case.

Proponents Have an Inning. Some of the Testimony Adduced.

The White will contest still drags along in the Superior court. The contestants finished their side of the case last Friday. Mrs. H. L. Estes was called and testified in a similar strain to previous witnesses for the contestants. Little new testimony was adduced to what has already been reported in the columns of the DISPATCH.

Drs. King and Twitchell, of the local State hospital, and Dr. Bowles, formerly connected with the Napa asylum, all testified as experts on insanity.

Hypothetical questions which embodied in them the peculiar characteristics and acts of the late W. H. White's life, from the contestant's point of view, were asked them and each expert thot that a person who acted in the manner as indicated by the hypothetical questions was of unsound mind. The experts also thot that the male offspring of parents who were habitual drunkards were more likely to be tainted with hereditary drunkenness and insanity than the female offspring.

On cross examination the experts thot that a perfect man might have the hallucinations White was said to have and yet be of sound mind.

After the contestants had closed the proponents then opened up their side of the case by producing many witnesses who swore that White was of perfectly sound mind and was one of the shrewdest business men that ever did business on the coast—that he had a perfect system of conducting his large interests, looked after details, managed the entire affair successfully and placed it upon a paying basis.

John Conway and M. Donahue, two of Greenwood's oldest and best citizens, testified to knowing White for 30 years, knew him intimately and thot him sane. There was no indication of prejudice in their testimony as perfect honesty was stamped in each one's face. Their testimony was not weakened on cross examination.

W. L. Williams, who had known White intimately since 1886 and who was at one time his bookkeeper and store manager at Point Arena, testified to White's sanity and business sagacity. He thot him to be of very sound mind.

M. A. Gilkison and W. H. Fuller, superintendent and manager of the Greenwood store respectively, testified to White's business capacity and mental acumen by narrating how he kept everything going like clock work and thot him to be an exceptionally shrewd business manager

"Doc" Dougherty, the locomotive engineer, also knew White well; knew him to be a good manager and had often taken White to the woods on the engine. He admitted White to be a heavy drinker, but never saw him real drunk.

One of the star witnesses for the proponents was A. W. Schiller, the big tie contractor of Greenwood. Schiller has resided at Greenwood for 30 years and knew W. H. White intimately and had taken many contracts to get out ties. All of his business was done with White direct and he thot him sane on account of his shrewd business deals and the logical arguments he advanced on various questions. Mr. Coogan started to give Schiller a good round at cross examination, but soon dropped the idea and was willing to let the "Stump town" orator off with as little oratory as possible. He found out that Schiller had a stentorian voice, and had crossed swords with a populist orator in 1894 and was still willing to orate if given an opportunity. Schiller admitted that White drank frequently, but said he never saw him drunk in his life.

Dr. R. E. Reese, who has been the leading physican and surgeon at Greenwood for the past five years, was next called and testified to knowing White in a professional and commercial way. The Dr. knew him intimately and bot land thru him, traded with him, attended himself and family professionally and met him socially. In the Dr.'s opinion White was of sound mind. The opinion was based upon knowledge gained in a general way and partially in a professional way.

On cross examination, the Dr. was asked a few questions which were based upon the assumption that he told Geo. A. Cameron something different while conversing with him. Dr. Reese, however, never remembered of speaking with Cameron upon the subject and stated positively that he had never told Cameron that White was killing himself both mentally and physically.

Mrs. Nellie White was placed on the stand to testify that her husband made the will on Oct. 18, 1894 and gave it to her for safe keeping. She also gave testimony in rebuttal of some evidence given by Bud Estes. The cross examination was brief.

Many other witnesses were called but nothing new adduced.

The argument was begun yesterday afternoon, and will be finished today noon when the case will go to the jury.

Ukiah Wins

The Ukiah High School boys walked away with the honor at the twelfth semi-annual field day of the A. A. L. last Saturday at Berkeley without half trying. At the end of the contest the score was as follows:

Ukiah High School	55
Oakland "	29
Lowell "	18
Petaluma "	8
Berkeley "	7
Boone's Academy	5
Palo Alto High School	1
Central " "	1
Polytechnic " "	1

Henley for Ukiah took first place in the pole vault, high and broad jumps, breaking the record both in the vault and broad jump.

Thomas took first place in the 120 and 220 yard hurdles and 2nd place in the pole vault.

Wyckoff took first place in the mile race and Holman won second in the 880 yard run.

Nuckolls won first place in the hammer throw and Weller and Brown took second and third place respectively. Weller also took 3rd place in the 120 yd hurdle and the broad jump.

The Ukiah team consisted of Henley, Holman, Nuckolls, Brown, Weller, Thomas, Thompson, Finne, Wyckoff, Dutton. J. C. Hildreth and F. M. Hoag were the rubbers and J. Forse Sturtevant was manager.

The boys did excellently and feel confident of winning the S. M. A. A. L. event in this city on April 7th.

Card of Thanks.

To the many friends of Willits who so kindly assisted us in labors of love and sympathy in our late sad affliction, the loss of our son and brother, we return our sincere thanks.

W. J. MOSIER AND FAMILY.

Mrs. J. H, Seawell and Mrs. J. H. Barker are visiting friends in the metropolis this week. They are expected to return Sunday.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Important Occurrences of the Past Seven Days.

Summary of What has Just Occurred. Accidents and Incidents.

DE HAVEN, March 26.

Just now there is but little news here, yet there may be some of interest.

Lately the weather has been quite unsettled. Sunday quite a brisk, tho sudden, shower came up and while it was of short duration, it was sufficient to be of advantage to coast gardens and grains.

The diptheria that has been causing great consternation in Westport is now dying out. At present there are no new cases and it is hoped that the disease is checked. Four deaths have occurred; Mr. Peter Hansen having lost three children and Mr. Shultz one namely, little Mamie. Aside from this all are well.

Last week Bob Green and Bert Coultas, of Southern California, came here. These young men come from Ventura, the region infected by the drought, and both hold very discouraging reports from that section.

Messrs Bert and Chas. Dingley arrived this week from Frisco. Both gentlemen are members of the De Haven Lumber company and are now combining their efforts to hasten the completion of the mill. This week the steamer arrived at Fort Bragg laden with the engine and other machinery. The track is partly repaired and will be finished after the engine comes. Tuesday the engineer arrived from Fort Bragg and this week more men will be put to work.

Tuesday Mr. McLane, of Albion, passed thru here with a band of cattle brot from Laytonville.

Mr. Harwood, of Caspar, has employed a new "runner" for the northern route, while he himself will go down the coast. From now on Mr. Harwood expects to send out his merchandise and grocery wagon at regular weekly intervals and the supposition is that the undertaking will be a profitable one for Harwood & Co., as well as advantageous to Westport, De Haven, Rockport and other northern towns.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. D. Gill entertained a little circle of friends at her home and a very pleasant time was had by all.

Last Wednesday J. A. Gordon received quite a shaking up while trying to ride a fractious horse. Owing, however, to Mr. Gordon's skill as an equestrian no great damage was done, and the horse was soon subdued. X.

FORT BRAGG NEWS.

FORT BRAGG, March 26.

The high school proposition is meeting with every encouragement. The petition for an election is almost ready for the county superintendent.

Attorney Leishman, of Ukiah, was seen on our streets one day last week.

Mr. Calvin Stewart, of Bear Harbor, came down last week to visit his mother in this city, who has been quite ill but is now convalescent.

The steamer Louella, bound for Eureka from San Francisco, docked here Sunday morning to take on several passengers for Eureka.

Town Marshal Golden met with quite a painful accident last Thursday. He was standing on a plank that was laid across the floor joist of the new brick building under construction on Main street, when the plank by some means tilted throwing Mr. Golden to the floor below. His tongue was almost cut in two by his teeth and he was otherwise bruised.

The trout season will open now in a few days and our anglers are getting ready to whip the streams. The streams around Fort Bragg are said to be teeming with the "speckled beauties."

Chas. Gannas, a Swede about 50 years of age, was brot to town on last Saturday morning in an unconscious condition, having been picked up by a teamster in the woods about two miles northeast of town. It was discovered that the unfortunate man had made an attempt to take his own life by cutting both wrists with a jack knife and also stabbing himself just under the heart with the large blade of his knife. He lived about one hour after being brot to town. It was ascertained later that the man had been on a protracted spree and had been wandering about in the woods for several days. The wounds, when discovered, were two or three days old. Gannis had been employed in a camp near Cleone, but drank his money up as fast as he earned it. He was buried Sunday at the county's expense.

Our roads on the coast are first class, to the credit of Supervisor Flanagan. The mails arrive now almost on time and if the good weather continues we shall soon have fine roads to the county seat.

Obituary.

WHITTAKER—In Potter Valley, March 23, Effie, beloved wife of Charles Whittaker and daughter of John and Maggie Gavin, age 20 years and 2 months.

Gone, forever gone, art thou, gentle flower, in all thy purity of grace and loveliness. Mid every care that affection's offering could give or fond hearts bestow. Sent to cheer and gladden loving hearts, the time, tho brief, was full of joy as around their hearts you clung from childhood until the budding of womanhood. In solemn, solitary woe thy loss a fond father, an affectionate mother and a loving husband must ever mourn, and all who knew thee their grief will blend, as time crowds on memory all thy charms and goodness of heart. The grave hath claimed thee for its own. We must yield the treasure however great, and when time shall be no more and His jewels shall have been gathered together we know that thou will be found among the number of His first choosing.

Two little hands crossed above pulseless breast,
One clasps a hyacynth, spotless white, emblem of her who rests.
Two blue eyes are closed in slumber, dreamless deep,
A captive in death's cold embrace our loved one doth sleep;
But they shall come again, these treasures laid away,
In the glad resurrection dawn of that eternal day.
O, blessed solace this to hearts by grief oppressed,
O, hasten morn of morns; O, welcome, land of rest. —MRS. J. R. GIBSON.

Potter Valley, Cal.

Surprise Party.

A very pleasant surprise party was given Thursday evening, March 22nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nutter in honor of Miss Bessie's 15th birthday. The evening was very pleasantly spent in playing games until about 11 o'clock when refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served, after which all departed wishing Miss Bessie many more happy birthdays. X.

John C. Lane, of Manchester, and W. R. Gaine, of Point Arena, were among the coasters called as witnesses in the White case this week.

CHAMP CLARK'S LETTER.

Our Republican Friends In a Dreadful Mix Up.

LIKE CATS OF KILKENNY.

Hurling Foul Epithets at Each Other's Head.

BEVERIDGE'S VILE INSINUATIONS.

Charged Certain Senators With Being Responsible For Philippine Troubles—Intimated That They Were Traitors—John Wanamaker Calls Him Down—Seating of Aldrich In the House an Outrage. Fleeing From Wrath to Come.

[Special Washington Letter.]

The cats of Kilkenny were in a heavenly frame of mind beside that of our Republican friends. The cats did not claw half as much hair and hide off each other as these warring, snarling, caterwauling Republicans are clawing off each other. It is awful—yes, awful—the reckless manner in which they hurl such pet epithets as "traitor" at each other's head. They ought to be arrested for indecent exposure. When Senator Beveridge made his great speech—the only great speech delivered since the confusion of tongues at Babel—he insinuated that certain grave and reverend senators were responsible for the death of our soldiers in the Philippines and intimated that he would assert that they were traitors if he were speaking in a different forum. He based his foul insinuation on the fact that their speeches had been reprinted by the Filipinos and circulated broadcast over the islands. I commend to the exuberant and self complacent young senator these immortal lines from Lord Byron:

But time at last sets all things even,
And if we do but watch the hour
There never yet was human power
Which could evade, if unforgiven,
The patient search and vigil long
Of him who treasures up a wrong.

Or, if he prefers a briefer statement of the case, I commend to his profoundest consideration the old saw, "The whirligig of time brings its own revenges," the truth of which he must feel in all its force when he peruses the following excerpt from Pious John Wanamaker's Philadelphia North American, a rampant Republican organ. Now, be it remembered that Brother Wanamaker not only runs the biggest Sunday school and the largest bargain counter in America, but that he is also one of the chief priests in the temple of Republicanism. He it was who was made postmaster general in 1889 because in 1888 he fried $400,000 in fat out of the Philadelphia manufacturers in 48 hours in order to help purify politics. So Pious John's Republican credentials are unimpeachable, for he paid hard cash for them. When John speaks, a waiting and expectant world stands on tiptoe and cranes its neck to hear his chunks of wisdom. If he hasn't a right to speak for Republicans, I beg leave to rise to a question of information and ask, "Who has?" Pious John has spoken. He hops on to Brother Beveridge rudely, roughly, ruthlessly. The iron must enter the soul of the great Hoosier when he reads Pious John's excoriation. John says:

IS BEVERIDGE A TRAITOR?

Senator Beveridge is embarrassed. In his notable speech he accused Mr. Hoar and other anti-imperialists of having encouraged the Filipinos to continue their war upon the flag. He pointed out that antiexpansion speeches had been reprinted in Spanish and distributed among the insurgents. Therefore the deliverers of these speeches were responsible for all the bloodshed in the islands. Mr. Beveridge did not exactly denounce Mr. Hoar and Mr. Mason and his Democratic colleagues as traitors, but he made it tolerably clear that only his respect for parliamentary forms restrained him from doing so.

Now the news comes from Manila that Senator Beveridge's own speech has been translated into Spanish and is being circulated among the natives to nerve them to persistence in rebellion. His description of the natural resources of the Philippines and his argument that we ought to hold the islands for the trade advantages they will bring to us are being cited by the Filipinos as proof that "American promises of good government are merely a mask for commercial exploitation of the Philippines."

Hence it follows that if Mr. Hoar and the other anti-imperialists are traitors because they encourage the Filipinos to fight, so is Senator Beveridge himself.

Let us hope that the lesson the eloquent young gentleman from Indiana and others will derive from this enlightening experience is that free speech cannot and ought not to be suppressed in the United States. If free speech has its disadvantages—and that is undeniable—we must keep in mind that it also has advantages which cannot be surrendered without the sacrifice of American liberty. When we go to war, we do so with a full understanding of the conditions under which it must be waged. One of these conditions is the freedom of debate in congress and the privilege of the citizen to dissent verbally from what his government is doing. The crime of leze majesty is unknown to our system.

Now, I am sorry to say that I have not the honor and pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Senator Beveridge. I never gazed upon his glowing visage but once, and that was at long range, at a Gridiron dinner. I have been compelled to admire his towering genius and oratorical gyrations at a distance. Consequently I do not know precisely how and where he learned all those things—wondrous and innumerable things—which he knows and which have made him the envy of all the other senators, to say nothing of 360 representatives and delegates in the more numerous branch of the national legislature. But I take it for granted that, like the rest of us western fellows, he learned how to spell out of Webster's old blue backed spelling book. If he will withdraw his mind from foreign conquest for a few moments and turn to the anecdotes in the rear portion of that immortal work, he will find a tale to the effect that much depends on whose ox is gored. He can also realize the force of the philosophy of the shoe being on t'other foot.

As Senator Beveridge ponders the caustic words of Brother Wanamaker, he may recall, if he is up in Shakespeare, Cardinal Wolsey's lament:

Mark but my fall and that that ruined me;
Cromwell, I charge thee fling away ambition.
By that sin fell the angels. How can man then,
The image of his Maker, hope to win by it?
* * * * * * *
Farewell, a long farewell, to all my greatness!
This is the state of man. Today he puts forth
The tender leaves of hope, tomorrow blossoms,
And bears his blushing honors thick upon him;
The third day comes a frost, a killing frost,
And when he thinks, good easy man, full surely
His greatness is a ripening—nips his root,
And then he falls, as I do.

But, truth to tell, I take no more interest in a tussle betwixt Wanamaker and Beveridge than did the old woman whose husband and the bear were fighting and who, with absolute impartiality, encouraged both combatants by first shouting, "Go it, husband!" and then, "Go it, bear!" The more that Republicans wool each other the better I will be pleased and the better the country will be off.

Some Antitrust Poetry.

With Mr. Andrew Carnegie's observation, "Poverty is a blessed heritage," for a text, George V. Hobart perpetrates the following poem, which stump speakers would do well to paste in their hats for future use and reference:

Trust in Leather, Trust in Ales,
Trust in Copper, Trust in Nails.
Trust in Whisky, Trust in Wine,
Trust in Iron, Trust in Twine.
Trust in Pickles, Trust in Tools,
Trust in Gumdrops, Trust in Mules.
Trust in Harness, Trust in Meal,
Trust in Dry Goods, Trust in Steel.
Trust in Rubber, Trust in Hens,
Trust in Paper, Trust in Pens.
Trust in Sawdust, Trust in Rice,
Trust in Green Goods, Trust in Ice.
Here's the limit: Andrew C.
Wants a trust in Poverty.

Another Republican Outrage.

"The earth belongs to the saints; we are the saints; therefore the earth belongs to us," has been Republican logic for, lo, these many years, but at the November election in 1898 the Republican machine slipped a few cogs in several portions of the earth, among others in Alabama, where Robbins, Democrat, defeated Aldrich, Republican, by about 1,400 majority, and in Virginia, where Young defeated Wise and Judge Rhea beat General Walker, both by handsome majorities. The Republicans with wondrous effrontery promptly ousted Robbins, who was elected, and seated Aldrich, who was never elected. Then, with appetites whetted for blood, they yanked Young out and put in Dr. Wise, son of the immortal Henry A. Wise! This is the third time hand running that Aldrich has crept into congress on a contest, and the second time that Dr. Wise has performed the same caper. Yet these outrages on a free ballot and a fair count are committed with a sanctimonious smirk and in the name of political purity by the self styled God and morality party. In commenting on these cases the Washington Post, goldbug, independent, high tariff, says:

The seat stealing in the house of representatives cannot be justified on the mere ground that the dominant party needs more majority. The voters have a happy faculty of settling with the political organization that substitutes brutality for justice.

The Post makes another jab at them in this wise:

The house of representatives simply gave Mr. Robbins of Alabama the Porto Rico jolt.

Yet again The Post remarks:

The second wrong never remedies an injustice, but at the same time there are people who will not shed tears if the next house is Democratic and some of the seat stealers are given robust doses of their own nasty nostrums.

Now, let it not be forgotten that in election cases members sit as a jury—judges of both the law and the facts. Yet when the Robbins case was being argued as a matter of curiosity I counted the occupants of the 180 seats on the Republican side of the house and found six members, two pages and one assistant doorkeeper! That, too, while Judge De Armond was speaking—an able man, a clear headed lawyer—but when the time came to vote Republican members trooped in from every point of the compass and cast their ballots to oust a man fairly elected on evidence of which they had heard or read not one single word or syllable. Could any greater farce than that be conjured up by the most imaginative novelist in existence? I think not, and yet a few months ago our great papers went into hysterics about the travesty on justice perpetrated in the Dreyfus case! France is 3,000 miles away. A travesty as bad as the Dreyfus case is performed in congress, and these same papers are dumb as oysters. It is no light matter to reject a properly elected and qualified representative from his seat. The man is little; the representative is everything. He stands for the majesty, the dignity, the power, the hopes and aspirations of a great constituency who have a right to be heard in congress and heard through the man they elect and not through one elected by the house of representatives.

Campaigning In Tennessee.

Mark Twain says, "Blessed is the man who bloweth his own horn lest it be not blown." Mr. Gibson of Tennessee has a jewel of a campaign manager who has evidently taken Mark's lesson to heart, with variations. He does not, so far as appears, blow his own horn, but he exalteth Brother Gibson's horn, in the following lusty, refreshing and exultant manner:

GIBSON HEADQUARTERS,
MAYNARDSVILLE, Tenn., March 5.
GIBSON'S GREAT WORKS IN LAST CONGRESS.
He did more than any other of our congressmen in any one term.
READ HIS RECORD.

1. He put through more southern war claims, the total number being 833, amounting to over $1,200,000.
2. He put through more special pension bills, the total numbering 65.
3. He had more men commissioned as officers in the army by the president, the total number being 41.
4. He had more men appointed postmasters, the total number being 329.
5. He had more new postoffices established, the total number being 74.
6. He made more visits to and calls on the pension bureau in Washington, the total number being about 12,000, all in the interest of the pensioners.
7. He sent out more vegetable seed, the total number of packages being 29,000, 17,000 of which he bought with his own money.
8. He sent out more pamphlets and books for farmers, the total number being 67,000, most of them paid for out of his own pocket.
9. He sent out more of his own speeches on the great questions of the day, the total number being 167,000.
10. He wrote more letters to his constituents in relation to their business at Washington, the total number being 47,000 since McKinley's election.
11. He was more regular in attending the sessions of congress and missed fewer roll calls.
12. He gave more of his time to the business of the people and spent less of it in idleness and pleasure.
13. He has been more honored by Speaker Henderson than any other southern Republican, having been made vice chairman of three important committees—viz., invalid pensions, war claims and revision of the laws.
14. He has been more attentive to the wants and wishes of the common man, especially to those of the soldiers, the farmers and the workingmen.

☞ Remember, all of the above work was done during one term and does not include what Judge Gibson did during his first term. And yet a few people are saying that he has not done anything.

A Farmer's Letter on Binder Twine.

If a man in public life were to make a speech or write a letter in favor of putting binder twine on the free list, all the protection organs in the land would jump on him with both feet. Not long since, when I introduced a bill to put binder twine on the free list, that is precisely what they did to me.

The other day I received a letter from one of my German constituents, Mr. Louis Hubert, on the subject. He is not a stump speaker or a writer for the press. He is a plain, industrious, sensible farmer, living in Audrain county, Mo., which is a magnificent agricultural country. Mr. Hubert had no idea that anybody except myself would ever read his letter, but it is such a clear, terse, comprehensive statement of the case in favor of binder twine being placed on the free list that I give it to my readers entire. It goes straight as a bullet to the mark. Here it is:

MEXICO, Mo., March 3.

Hon. Champ Clark, Washington:

Dear Sir—As our representative in congress I would like to call your attention to a great evil that is threatening the farmers in general—the duty on binding twine. This article is an absolute necessity for the farmer to save his hard earned crop. At a meeting of twine dealers recently in Nebraska it was found that only 15 per cent of the necessary twine to harvest the coming crop was on hand, at a price of from 15 to 16 cents per pound.

Now, what is the farmer a-going to do about it, with a duty on top of such high prices? This is the object of this letter. Do everything you can to get the binding twine on the free list. I do not think that there is anything the farmers would appreciate more than just this one article being on the free list. The farmer certainly has enough load to carry on the imposed high trust prices on almost all everyday articles of necessity.

As a consequence of imperialistic and unjust aggression in a country where we got out twine has caused the shortness of the present supply, consequently high prices on binding twine.

Our government ought to encourage its people instead of demoralizing their existence and income. The farmers must work hard before a crop is matured, at the same time standing risks and chances to lose all by hail, storm, cyclones, insects, etc., and consequently it's a shame to tax him for saving his crop, the foundation of prosperity in a land.

Now, I have just written this to you. If you possibly can do something for us against the duty on binding twine, please do so, and you certainly will earn the praises of every farmer in the United States. Sir, I have the honor to be, yours respectfully, LOUIS HUBERT.

I submit to all who read these letters that that is an unanswerable argument in favor of free binding twine and also a rather hard knock against our newfangled and senseless policy of imperialism.

"Benevolent Suffocation."

"Render unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's," "Give the devil his due" and kindred sayings are familiar to the ears of men. The Washington Post and I differ as to many things—indeed nearly all things political—but when that great goldbug, high tariff journal makes an invention or a discovery in "technical terminology" it is entitled to the praise, the unstinted praise, of all who wrestle with our conglomerate and exceedingly live, not to say lively, language. The Post has achieved the distinction of evolving from its inner consciousness a new phrase, a striking phrase, a phrase that fits like a glove, a phrase which will probably survive the Republican party, a phrase which ex proprio vigore will go to every place where our vernacular is spoken. It is "benevolent suffocation"—grows out of our amazing conduct toward Porto Rico, or Puerto Rico if you please, and fills a long felt want. It is a fit companion piece to "criminal aggression" and "benevolent assimilation." I take off my hat to The Post for making this timely and appropriate and brilliant contribution to our political literature.

Fleeing From the Wrath to Come.

It is said that, even after Noah had built the ark and it had been raining two or three days out of the predestined 40, certain antediluvians—the Republicans of that day—scoffed at Noah's invitation to repent and remarked: "Go to, Noah! It isn't much of a shower after all." Everybody knows what happened to them. They were the Paynes, Dalzells, Cannons, Dollivers, Steeles, Grosvenors and Tawneys of that damp season.

But in all times there have been those who had sense enough to go in out of the rain, to take shelter from an impending storm. My good personal friend, Hon. George W. Faris of Terre Haute, Ind., is one of these. Faris is a rampant Republican, a splendid, handsome gentleman, and went with the majority on the Porto Rican bill. But Faris is one of the wise men who keep their fingers on the public pulse and their ears to the ground to note the movements of men. Faris is not going to stand for re-election. Faris has sense enough to flee from the wrath to come. Three times hand running Faris has carried a close district by the skin of his teeth. He knows enough not to buck against fate. So Faris goes back voluntarily to his law business, which, I hope, will prosper. Many of his Republican brethren will follow him involuntarily in "the melancholy days of November."

Knock-Out Drops

"I am a saloon-keeper, and used to think that rock and rye, or whiskey and quinine were proper remedies for coughs and colds. Most of my acquaintances were of the same opinion. Now I know something at least a thousand times better. It is Acker's English Remedy for Coughs and Colds. A good while ago I began to cough and found out then that rock and rye was no good. I got worse and I was beginning to think that the trouble would run into consumption. I didn't take any stock in patent medicines, but somehow or other I tried Acker's English Remedy. One bottle did the business for me—knocked that cough out completely—and it has never come back again. There is never a day passes that I don't say a good word about this wonderful medicine. I almost forgot to say that I am stronger and fleshier now, since taking the remedy, than I was before the cough began. I write this letter voluntarily and cheerfully and am glad to do it." (Signed) CHRIS. HUMBLE, Saloon-keeper, Pocatello, Idaho.

Sold at 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY.

Nothing in newspaperdom has ever attracted such attention as has been and is still given to the unique enterprise of Rev. Charles M. Sheldon of Topeka. Mr. Sheldon, who had already become well known because of his sermons and his books, one of which, "In His Steps," has had an enormous sale and is still in great demand, some months ago made an arrangement with the proprietor of the Topeka Capital whereby that paper was to be conducted for one week as Mr. Sheldon thought Christ would "run" a daily paper. The contract provided that The Capital, with its plant, should be turned over to Mr. Sheldon on Monday, March 12, the preacher-editor-manager's first issue to appear on Tuesday, March 13. The difficulties of Mr. Sheldon's position can be appreciated when it is remembered that his task implied his personal inspection of and decision upon every line submitted for insertion in the news, editorial and advertising columns of The Capital during the week of his control. The great interest taken in Mr. Sheldon's venture was evidenced by the orders for the paper which poured in in a continuous stream for weeks before the appearance of the initial number. It is said that over 500,000 extra orders for the paper during the week were received, thousands coming from outside of the United States.

General Wallace at Work.

General Wallace resides at Crawfordsville, Ind., where he has an ideal home and quarters for the pursuance of his literary labors. He is now engaged upon two books. One of these is his autobiography, which was begun several years ago and upon which the general is bestowing great pains. It promises to be one of the most interesting works, for he has been during his whole active life in close touch with the great men and the historic events of war, literature and diplomacy. The autobiography will be an extended work and will deal with personal reminiscences, speeches and letters being religiously excluded. General Wallace is keeping a profound secret the nature of the second work he is now engaged on. He states, however, that the work is pleasant and congenial. Several years ago he said that his next work would have to do with American life and be really an American novel. This may possibly be the book he is now working on, although he says nothing to warrant such an assertion. The preparation of "Ben-Hur" for the stage and ill health for several months during the summer and fall kept General Wallace from his study and his literary labors, but he is now hard at work again.

The "Irish Joan of Arc."

Miss Maud Gonne, known as the "Irish Joan of Arc," who came to this country in January to collect funds for Boer widows and orphans, has returned to Paris well pleased with the results of her visit to the United States.

Miss Gonne has achieved considerable fame because of her anti-English sentiments. Upon several occasions during recent years she has made radical speeches in Ireland, denouncing the British government and calling upon the Irish people to organize against English rule. Lately she has made her home in Paris, but just prior to sailing for this country she spent some weeks in Ireland and devoted her energies while there to hampering the work of the recruiting sergeants for the British army. She lectured in several American cities during her recent visit.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

On Selecting a Carpet—Some Information on Frying—Artistic Window Draping.

Art squares made from the ingrain carpet that was looked upon generally with so much disfavor are now the popular things for dining rooms. Usually they are made of two colors—blue and white for a delft room and two shades of oak or green and oak being the favorites. Of machine made carpets axminster is best, first, because it has a richness and softness of few other makes.

For a good, strong carpet there is nothing like old fashioned brussels, which makes no pretense at style. It is very durable. An old Persian carpet in itself is perfect, but it must be put in a room that has a Persian interior or that is harmonious. Designs, too, need careful watching. The pattern selected must look well from every part of the room. Some have an unpleasing way of looking upside down when viewed from the top. There is a decided crusade against flowers that look real, however. The pattern must suggest the flower without looking natural enough to cause a revulsion against treading upon it, and that is just where the orientals show their strong points, for into their rugs they have woven animals that yet are not animals and blossoms that never grew on stem or tree.

Information on Frying.

A cook should always have two frying pans and a third not much bigger than a large plate for omelets, fritters and the like. The pans should be kept very clean, and the butter dripping, lard or oil must be boiling hot before the meat or fish or vegetable is put in the pan. Mutton chops, plain, do not require any fat in the pan with them—they have enough in themselves—but they must be turned and moved about to prevent them from burning. Always season the chop with a little pepper before putting it in the pan.

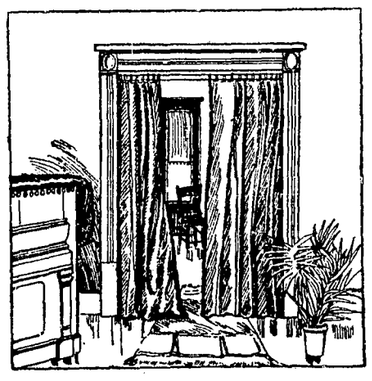
Lamb cutlets and lamb chops must be egged and bread crumbed twice to look well. Steak should be cut three-quarters of an inch thick and should be peppered, but not salted, as that makes it hard. Salt is reserved until after the cooking.

Fish must be well dried before frying in a cloth well sprinkled with flour. Then an egg should be well brushed over it, with a sprinkling of finely grated bread or cracker crumbs. The fat should be boiling when the fish is put in, and there should be enough of it to cover.

In kitchens where strict economy is demanded it is usual when liver and bacon are to be served to fry the bacon first, which will leave enough fat in the pan for the liver to be put in without other fat.

Window Draping.

The illustration shows a window draped for outside and inside effect. Next the window glass is hung a pair of short length curtains in Irish point.



FOR OUTSIDE AND INSIDE EFFECT.

These are shirred upon a small brass rod fastened inside the casing and hang straight to the window sill. The usual window shade with its finish of fringe hangs over these. The roller is fastened just within the casing. Against the upper casing another brass rod is secured, from which the long curtains of Irish point are hung. These are shirred over the rod, the upper part being turned over enough to allow of the curtains reaching to within an inch of the floor. The artistic casing shown is placed over the ordinary wooden casing and makes an attractive finish for the window. It is of dark wood or may be velvet covered and is finished with a filigree work in raised gold. The colored drapery is secured to the under side of this frame. The drapery on the left side hangs straight and full, while on the right side it is cut in order to gain the desired effect. The cascade is made by cutting the breadth so that one edge shall be bias, and this bias edge is folded back and forth. A very little experimenting with a piece of cloth will reveal the manner of folding. One end of the festoon is covered with a rosette of the goods where it is attached to the frame, and the other end is brought up over the end of the frame. Very heavy cords and tassels of silk are arranged with the rosette and are also used to tie back the straight draperies.—Housekeeper.

Salad Hints.

Cream or Neufchatel cheese or the homemade cottage cheese should be served with fruit salads and any kind of thin, crisp crackers or bread cut in thin slices, the crust removed, and then the slices rolled and tied with baby ribbon to make them attractive.

Bear in mind that it is quite as important to have the salads thoroughly chilled as to have soups perfectly hot. Lukewarmness is not commendable in either of these courses any more than it is in friendship or religion.—Ella Morris Kretschmar in Woman's Home Companion.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR.

"I heard a speaker at the meeting of the Amalgamated Association of Strong Sisters the other afternoon say that in her whole life she had never seen a man who was really worthy of the love and esteem of a good woman."

She paused a moment. She was beautiful, and there was about her a certain demureness in spite of the almost masculine strength of her mother and the teachings to which the girl had been subjected.

"I think," she went on, "that a woman who will stand up in public and say such a thing confesses that she has not kept the best company. I have known three such men."

The young gentleman who sat in the other chair looked around rather wildly, as if he expected to see some one pop out from behind something. Then he said:

"Your father was one of them, I suppose. Who was the other?"

"The other?" she replied. "I said there were three."

Then with a hopeless look he got his hat and went, for in spite of the fact that he didn't have to work he could take a hint.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Literary Shock.

"I'm very fond of whist," said Mr. Meekton. "Henrietta and I play it a great deal."

"I have just been reading up on the game."

"I never look at such books. They affect me like downright impertinence. The men who wrote some of them seem to think they know more about the game than Henrietta does."—Washington Star.

A Distinction.

"Don't you think you're making a rather broad statement when you say every pessimist is necessarily a married man?"

"But I didn't say that."

"Oh, didn't you? I thought you did."

"No. I said every married man is necessarily a pessimist."—Philadelphia Press.

The Point of View.

When on the curb you, waiting, stand
And see the grayman wave his hand
And pass you by, you rage in vain
In anger at his rude disdain.

But when you're safely fixed inside
And some outsider wants to ride,
You smile and hear his pleading call
And somehow do not care at all.

—Washington Star.

When you dream that somebody is pushing you over a precipice it's time you looked after your stomach and liver. You may not believe in dreams but that particular sort of dream is likely to come pretty near true if you don't take prompt measures to prevent it. If you neglect the warning you may find that you are actually pushing yourself over the precipice of disease into the abyss of death.

Don't forget that your heart and lungs and brain and nerves are supplied with blood and nutriment through your stomach, liver and bowels. If they do not do their work properly—if the blood is full of poisonous matter your whole body will soon be full of impurity and disease, and it is small wonder you dream of disaster.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood. It cleanses the whole digestive system and is an antidote for poison in the blood. It is a blood-maker and flesh-builder and is good for the nerves. It brings restful sleep and a clear head. It contains no alcohol, whisky, sugar, syrup, or dangerous opiates.

"I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Townsend, Broadwater Co., Montana. "Words fail to tell how thankful I am for the relief, as I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctors could do me no good. I got down in weight to 125 pounds, and was not able to work. Now I weigh nearly 160 and can do a day's work on the farm."

The President has not made a single pledge so far that he has not broken when Hanna demanded it. The free silver pledge, the double standard pledge, the civil service pledge, the Porto Rico pledge, all have been broken, which shows that the President has very little firmness in his make up.

The Democrats have nominated a splendid ticket for municipal officers this year—a ticket that should command the support of every democrat and independent voter in the town. No mistake can be made by voting the straight democratic ticket.

Georgia Republicans have elected their national delegates to Philadelphia. All are "niggers" except one; he's a poor white. Two of the three hold office and the solitary white man is a United States marshal. Being at the "pie counter" they are naturally for McKinley.

Ukiah is now becoming to be quite a city. If you desire progress and prosperity in city affairs support the Democratic nominees for trustees. They are pledged to improve and beautify the city so that it will attract men of means to locate in the town. Vote for Gibson, Cleveland and Orr.

The Loud postal bill, the object of which was to crush the weekly newspapers of the country and place the avenues of public intelligence in the hands of trusts and monopolists, has been re-committed to the committee from which it emanated. This means that the bill is dead. Good!

The cost of modern civilization: Cost of war with Spain, $259,341,299; War with Filipinos in 1899, $64,617,267. Estimated cost of war for 1900, $100,885,934. Probable cost of army for 1900, $125,000,000. Annual increase of army and navy expenses, $100,000,000. Total, $549,844,500. Now wouldn't that jar the rankest jingo.

The Republican platform of this year may be briefly stated as follows: Down with the republic. The earth belongs to the money kings and trusts. The few are created to rule and the many to serve. The poor should be content with the crumbs that fall from the tables of the rich. A standing army of sufficient size to compel labor to obey the injunctions of the rich and to starve without a murmur. The moral law is mere sentiment and is out of date.

Some of our Republican exchanges are very fond of telling the people the cost of England's South African War, but forget to inform the people of the cost of McHanna's Philippine war. The object seems to be to take the people's attention away from home blunders by showing up England's expense. That might have some weight with a few ignorant people, but in the long run it will simply have the effect of showing the great expense of imperialism and militarism. This country can not afford to ape the English colonial system of tyranny.

SHIPPING BILL FRAUD.

A committee of the National Association of Manufacturers has recently submitted to that body a report on the pending iniquitons Hanna-Payne ship subsidy bill, in which some specious and misleading arguments are given in its favor. The argument is that ship building is cheaper in foreign countries than in the United States; therefore foreign ships can carry freight cheaper than we can. The report goes on to say that the immediate effect of the passage of the Hanna-Payne bill will be "to increase the efficiency of our shipping in the foreign trade at least threefold in five years; to largely and permanently reduce rates of ocean transportation; to thus increase our export trade; to eventually bring the cost of constructing ships as low in the United States as it is elsewhere." It is hard for the ordinary mind to understand how a largely increased demand for American built ships is to "eventually bring the cost of constructing ships as low in the United States as elsewhere." The rule is that an increased demand for an article increases its price. Foreign ships now carry our trade cheaper than can our own ships. But it is said that under this bill we will "largely and permanently reduce rates of ocean transportation." If we can not now meet foreign rates, how are we going to meet and largely reduce those rates within five years? The whole argument is fallacious and deceptive, and shows on its face that it is a fraud. The purpose of the bill is to donate large sums of money, wrung from the people thru onerous taxation, to American ship owners and builders, in order that they may destroy legitimate competition. Then we will have a shipping trust and up will go rates to all the traffic will bear.

CURRENCY LAW.

Republican fondness for trusts manifests itself in the currency law which was forced thru congress by the brute power of a majority drunk with pride. It will create a trust of trusts—a banking trust, to which all other trusts must humbly bow. He who can monopolize the money of a nation can bring all other monopolists to their knees. The Republican currency law gives control of the money of the nation to a well organized body of men of like interests who are dominated by the handful of great bankers in the financial cities. These great bankers in turn are the promoters, directors or managers of the industrial trusts. The connection is complete. The monopolists of money and the monopolists of opportunity are one and the same.

In thus turning over the control of the paper money to the bankers, the Republicans have found it necessary to rivet upon the nation a national debt, which we were in a fair way to discharge. A huge sum of money is to be paid for premiums on unmatured bonds so that they may be canceled and 2 per cent thirty-year bonds issued in their stead. Why extend for 30 years a debt now almost payable and which the nation is amply able to pay as it matures? The Republicans tell us that it is done so as to furnish a basis for bank-note circulation. That is to say that a banker can buy $25,000 of these new bonds, deposit them in the treasury and get $25,000 in bank notes to lend out. He gets 2 per cent on his bonds and from 6 to 10 per cent on his notes, according to his locality and his skill as a financier. It is in order to effect this benevolent end that the national debt is to be made permanent.

Now what secures these bank notes? The professional fidelity of the national banker? Why, so many national bankers have proved thieves and defaulters that McKinley has had to pardon 17 out of the penitentiary to keep his standing with the fraternity. The notes are secured by the bonds; the bonds by the stability and honor of the nation. But the Government has in circulation some $434,000,000 of its own notes, secured as its bonds are by its faith and solvency. These notes the bankers—whose own notes rest ultimately on government credit—declare unsafe and the administration has acceded to their demands and ordered their retirement.

The substitution of interest-bearing bonds for non-interest bearing greenbacks, the gift of millions to the banks and the creation of a banking trust with power to contract the currency at will are some of the fruits of the Republican currency law.

IMPERIALISM.

Evidence of the complete surrender of McKinley and his followers to the imperialistic element in the Republican party is overwhelming. The record began with the purchase of the people of the Philippine islands from Spain like cattle. It was continued when the President, without constitutional authority, employed the United States army to consummate that "forcible annexation" which he himself described as criminal aggression. It found new expression in the refusal of the administration forces at the capital to permit any expression of national sympathy for the Boers in their struggle against imperial Britain, and it has had its most impressive and menacing manifestation in the determination to tax the Puerto Ricans without granting them any representation in our national congress—the exact issue upon which the colonies in 1776 revolted from British domination.

These are the manifestations of imperialism in its relations to our foreign policy. But it does not exert its baleful influence beyond seas alone. The same element in our society which is trying to prove that the Filipinos are not fit for self-government, that the constitution does not go where the flag goes and that the declaration of independence is an antiquated and outgrown collection of sentimental fallacies, will in time turn their attention to matters at home. Indeed it is not needful to say in time—They are doing it already. You can hear almost daily the voice of some imperialist raised to say that the suffrage is too universal in this land and should be limited by a property qualification—that is, that many of our people are unfit for self-government, and that the dollar, not the man, should vote. We have seen the constitution torn to shreds by the unlawful issue of bonds and by the violation of every constitutional guaranty in the Coeur d'Alene. We find the postoffice authority used to curtail free speech and destroy the liberty of the press. We see day by day the encroachment of the executive power and the progressive curtailment of the powers of the elected representatives of the people.

That is imperialism. It is not a distant danger, but is already confronting us. It has won its victories, and with each it has advanced perceptibly toward the substitution of an empire for the republic. If our liberties are to be saved it should be attacked at every point, and its foremost champion, William McKinley, should be the first to fall.

THE NEBRASKA PLATFORM.

The platform adopted by the Democrats of Nebraska at the State convention held on the 19th of this month possesses peculiar interest for Democrats in all parts of the country, because it may be taken to express the views of Col. Bryan and to be in some degree indicative of what he will hope to see incorporated in the national declaration of principles.

Of course the Chicago platform was reaffirmed—as it will be at Kansas City—"in whole and in part, in letter and in spirit," but especial emphasis was laid upon those planks dealing with government by injunction, the income tax, pensions, and the free coinage of silver.

Two growing forces in the creation of public sentiment were recognized in resolutions approving direct legislation and the municipal ownership of municipal franchises.

What may be termed the new issues of the year received vigorous and adequate attention. The Republican currency law is denounced as chaining the nation to the gold standard, and as surrendering to the banks for their own profit the governmental function of issuing money. Imperialism—with its attendant evils—the Philippine war, the Puerto Rico tariff, and militarism at home and abroad are roundly denounced.

The trusts—"the money trust, the industrial trust and the international land-grabbing trust"—are denounced and the McKinley administration condemned for neither enforcing the present law against them nor recommending a more efficient one.

The platform, tho not long, touches all the current issues with confidence and sincerity. It points out the insidious menace of Republicanism to the principles enunciated in the Declaration of Independence, and it closes with an expression of sympathy for the Boers in their struggle for liberty. It may fairly be held a compendium of Democratic doctrine up to date.

WILLITS ITEMS.

WILLITS, March 27.

Since the probability of a railroad being built to Willits has been shown there has been a large number of visitors and land prospectors here and they all say they are surprised to find such a fine country and climate. One man from the southern part of the State said, "Why, you don't half appreciate your advantages here; You ought to be set down in Los Angeles county, 'The garden of the earth,' for a few days and then you would understand the blessings you enjoy in this valley and country." It is all right, I think when he tries to buy land here he will find that the owner appreciates all the blessings that go with the realty. The country is certainly lovely now and calculated to charm any one, whether from the sun-burnt south or frozen north. There has not been enough cold weather this winter to discourage the fleas and flies; we are no better off than Los Angeles on that proposition.

The principal topic of discussion now is the municipal election. The principal issue seems to be the collection of taxes—whether to have the town officials to assess and collect the municipal taxes or to have the county assessor and tax collector to do the business as it is now. The argument of the home collectors is that if the corporation can't attend to its own business and keep its money at home we should disincorporate and turn every thing over to the county. It is true we have more money to make good roads, but it is at the expense and to the injury of the remainder of this road district and then we should not go to Ukiah for anything, etc. While those in favor of the present system say that the county assessor and tax collector assess and collect every cent of the municipal taxes which the town officers never did. We are at no expense for publishing a delinquent tax list; we have $200 more to put on the roads than when the town did its own collecting. Those voters who pay the most taxes are in favor of the county doing the collecting. Those who have only personal property want the town officers to do the collecting. The town assessor simply copies the assessment from the county assessor's books and consequently collects little or no personal property taxes, etc.

The Willits Telephone Company have got a move on them. The first week of April they will begin hauling and setting poles and by the first of May, at least, we will be able to call up Ukiah, San Francisco, Calpella or Milpitas.

It is remarkably healthy here now. In fact this country has such a reputation that it is rumored that a San Francisco physician is coming here to locate for rest and health; of course in case of accidents or post-mortems his services can be had.

Edwards Bros. of Ukiah drove 600 hogs thru here last week and Cal Toney 300, all from the hog districts of Long and Round valleys, and it is said that the woods are full of them yet, tho this makes about 9000 head that has come out of there since last summer. If we had a hominy district to match, Missouri would not be in it with we 'uns.

Coated

Look at your tongue. Is it coated?

Then you have a bad taste in your mouth every morning. Your appetite is poor, and food distresses you. You have frequent headaches and are often dizzy. Your stomach is weak and your bowels are always constipated.

There's an old and reliable cure:

Don't take a cathartic dose and then stop. Better take a laxative dose each night, just enough to cause one good free movement the day following.

You feel better the very next day. Your appetite returns, your dyspepsia is cured, your headaches pass away, your tongue clears up, your liver acts well, and your bowels no longer give you trouble.

OFFICE OF

General Passenger and Freight Agent,

MUTUAL LIFE BUILDING,

Corner California and Sansome Street, San Francisco, Cal.

To The People of Marin, Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino Counties:

It is surprising the number of people we meet in cities who would like to go to the country every year if they could only locate themselves agreeably. They do not care for a regular resort where it is dress, dress. The large majority have neither relatives nor personal friends in the country, and even if they did, feel that a visit of the whole family would be rather an imposition. These people are continually wishing to visit some farm, some little home in the country where they can be at ease, free from fashion's restraints, enjoy good country meals, roam at will and sleep in a nice, clean bed. During the last few years quite a number were guests at our farms and town homes in Marin, Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino Counties, and we may add, that in general, the financial results to our people were most gratifying.

As far as can be judged, the demand this year for such accommodations will be greater than in the past, and we would respectfully ask all those who desire to receive Summer Boarders to advise us, so we can put their names on our list. Even if a party can accommodate but two, three or four persons, let us know as some like to be where there are no other boarders.

We have prepared a blank to be filled up, calling for the information necessary in our advertising. This can be procured from our agents or from us direct. Please send in early, as our advertising matter must necessarily be ready by April 1st.

Under Arrest.

COVELO, March 25—A warrant was sworn out by H. C. Simmons for the arrest of William Swearinger and Albert Myers Saturday, charged with cattle stealing. Swearinger and Myers were arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff Redwine and are now in his custody. Both the accused were in the employ of Simmons on his ranch, twelve miles east of Covelo, and while thus employed they made away with their employer's stock. Some fifteen or twenty head of prime cattle are missing, and it is alleged the cattle were taken off the ranch and sold to transient stock buyers by the prisoners.

This morning Swearinger and Myers entered a plea of not guilty, the magistrate holding them both under $500 bond, which is not yet filed. Swearinger is the young man who was recently implicated in a horse stealing affair. He is about 24 years old and bears a hard reputation. Numerous recent depredations of this character have aroused stock owners and every effort will be made for a conviction. The date of the hearing is delayed to enable stock men from outlying ranges to be present. The evidence is expected to disclose a system of nefarious traffic on the wholesale order. Other arrests are expected to follow.

WILLITS, March 28.

In a late issue of the Willits Press I notice an article signed "A," in which the writer intended to ridicule and cast slurs on three members of the Board of Town Trustees. His description is so plain that any one knows who he refers to. In the first place his statements are false. He is a liar. He is a coward and dare not sign his name. He stabs good men in the dark and is an assassin and should sign himself in full as assassin instead of simply "A."

A very pretty wedding was solemized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. McPeak in this city on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The contracting parties were Henry F. Vogt, of Alameda, and Miss Carrie Hight, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Waggoner and the wedding march played by Frank Nutter. The room was tastefully decorated with lillies and ferns. After the ceremony congratulations were extended and all sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner. Only immediate friends and relatives were present. The presents were many and useful.

The Reason Why

Acker's Elixir is warranted is because it is the blood preparation known. It will positively cure all blood diseases, purify the whole system and thoroly builds up the constitution, and it only costs 50 cents a bottle. Remember, we guarantee it. W. A. Hoffman, Druggists.

Time Extended.

The California Cured Fruit Association has extended the time for signing contracts and taking membership to May 1st next, as it was found impossible to make a thorough canvass within the time at first set.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch a cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. MEARKLE, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by all dealers.

Obituary.

Wm. A. Mosier, son of W. J. and Mary Ellen Mosier, died of tuberculosis, resulting from pneumonia of over two years standing. He was born at Hopland, this county, Dec. 29, 1873, and died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Geo. Endicott, on the Mosier ranch in Little Lake valley, March 18th, at the age of 26 years. His mother departed this life in April, 1897.

He was familiarly known as Al Mosier, a strong and quiet young man. He was living with his father who had lately moved to Potter valley, but on a visit to the old home (where he had formerly lived about 12 years) he was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs. Dr. Clark, of Willits, was called and did all he could to alleviate the pain, but all felt that the reaper's call was made, and this young man informed his friends that he felt easy and determined to trust the whole matter with God, that his heart had been changed and he felt that God was very near to him and had helped him in response to his prayer. It is a consolation to his kindred and friends that he passed over the river praying to his Creator and had testified of God's goodness to him. He was respected by all who knew him. A very large procession followed the remains to the grave.

The Methodist friends not only kindly opened their church house, but their choir rendered excellent and appropriate music, while the writer sought to give comfort from the inspired word; choosing John 12:32. Flowers in not a little profusion were brot, thus testifying of the generous sympathetic spirit of the good people of Willits for the grief stricken family. His father, W. J. Mosier, who is well known in the county, his brothers, Francis, Frank and John, and his sisters, Mrs. Geo. Endicott, of Willits, Mrs. G. Hamer, of Upper Lake, Mrs. Nettie Day, of Potter valley, and Mrs. Callie Grant of Hopland, were all present during his last moments. We have hope that his spirit rests in peace in the hands of God, whose love we believe far surpasses man's conception. G.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on J. R. Mathews, Druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Notice is hereby given that fishing on the premises of the undersigned, in Walker valley, is strictly prohibited. 3-30t4

Ukiah Improvement Club.

The second meeting of the Club took place at Marks' Opera House on Tuesday, March 27th. The membership now is about 80 and it is earnestly urged and hoped that all ladies who take an interest in the welfare and appearance of the town and in the edification of its visitors will enroll themselves as active workers in this Club. The ladies are providing receptacles for waste paper in convenient places and everyone is requested to refrain from scattering papers on the streets.

A good many of our citizens are already becoming imbued with the spirit of improvement and are having the grass cleaned away from their fences on the streets and the ladies earnestly urge on all the necessity of so doing as the grass catches and holds any scraps of paper which may be blown about.

The club has in contemplation the improving and beautifying of the Public Park and, with the valuable help of the city trustees, who have so kindly taken an interest in the matter and have promised to introduce the water system into it soon. The club expects to have a park which will be worthy of the name and one of which we may all be proud. Wooden seats will be placed in the park in the near future and also rustic tables for the convenience and accommodation of our visitors, and there is no doubt that ere long the wooden seats will be replaced by iron settees.

A brigade to be formed from the boys of our schools will be formed as an auxiliary to the club and will be under the supervision and training of members of the Uniform Rank of the Knights of Pythias.

The officers of the club are: President, Mrs. Dr. Wyckoff; Vice President, Miss Susa Harris; Secretary, Mrs. Bettie Chalfant; Treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Ewert.

The average annual production of small grain in this country for some years past has been 1,330,000,000 bushels, and with the constant growth of the country this product will constantly increase.

Basswood lath are being manufactured in Minnesota to take the place of pine lath that went out of sight a long time ago. These are selling at about two-thirds the price of pine lath and give good satisfaction.

The immigration of laborers to the Hawaiian Islands during the year 1899 was 21,571 men, 5,077 women and 794 children, making a total of 27,442. Of these 20,561 were under contract and 6,881 were not under contract.

There is the very closest connection between local political affairs and national politics in the Argentine Republic. The local administrations are, in fact, party strongholds and used as such in securing political influence.

The demand for patent leather boots in London was never so small as now. Of the men who habitually wore "patents" a year ago it is estimated by the bootmakers that more than half go in today for the ordinary "blacking boot."

The weight of the 200,000 volumes which have been in the doges' palace at Venice since 1812 is endangering that old building, wherefore the government has voted 75,000 francs for their transference to the Zecca building.

The houses in Guam are built on posts four to six feet above the ground to keep them from dampness in the rainy season, but are entirely comfortless and furnished in the most primitive manner. Their utensils are simple and homemade.

Californians are beginning to cultivate the tomato tree, which bears clusters of a delicious fruit, thousands of boxes of which are sent yearly from Ceylon to London and for which it is believed a good market could be found in our eastern states.

Arsenic has been proved by Armand Gautier to be a normal constituent of the thyroid gland and probably other organs in the herbivora, the carnivora and man. This seems to explain the successful use of arsenic in certain diseases, such as anæmia.

The multiplication of new compounds in organic chemistry is something appalling. In 1883 the total number of carbon compounds recorded was 16,000, but a newly revised list by Dr. M. M. Richter enumerates not less than 67,000. And the end seems yet far off.

In 1890 there were only four insurance companies in Japan, with a capital of $1,434,000. In 1898 there were 73 registered companies, with a capital of $30,900,800. At the same period 36 companies alone showed an issue of 510,000 policies of the value of $106,800,000.

One of the most important epochs in the history of German jurisprudence began on Jan. 1, 1900, when the new German law went into effect. Under the new system Germany has a uniform legal procedure applicable to the various states comprising the German empire.

Pomeranian spaniels are becoming the rage in New York as well as in London and Paris, and there is a possibility that even the popular smooth fox terrier will be compelled to lower his crest to the pretty little long haired animals presumably imported from Pomerania.

One of the reasons why Paris is so pleasant a city to live in is that there are many "modes" there. Whether you are literary or musical or artistic or, indeed, anything whatsoever else you are sure to find a little congenial world and society devoted to your favorite form of art.

The cotton plant in Paraguay grows the year round, favored throughout each season by conditions of soil and climate. After the cotton is picked the plant is cut down and another grown from the roots. Every two years both plants and roots are plowed up and new plants started, a finer grade of cotton resulting.

Recently a motor carriage has been introduced in France which combines many novel features. It is normally propelled solely by an oil engine, but on hilly ground is helped by an electric motor. The oil engine works at constant speed, and when the vehicle does not absorb all the engine power the excess drives the motor as a dynamo and charges the accumulators.

WOMAN AND FASHION.

A Fashionable Promenade Costume. Latest In Trimmings—A Handsome Costume.

The promenade costume shown in the sketch is of khaki colored cloth, trimmed with red taffeta and light putty colored felt cloth. The skirt has a plait at the back and is adorned on the hips with pannier shaped pieces of the light cloth, while narrow bands of red taffeta extend from waist to feet, being arranged at regular intervals all round the skirt.

The bodice has a short bolero of the khaki cloth striped with taffeta, joined to a simulated vest of putty colored cloth, with long tapering revers and buttons and loops of cord apparently holding the bolero and vest together. In the interior is a flat plastron of red taffeta lightly embroidered and ornamented by a high collar band to match, encircled by a cravat of the light cloth. The sleeves are long and tight, with taffeta bands at the shoulders. The boa is a thick ruffle of brown chiffon and marabou. The hat is putty colored felt, adorned with red plumes.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Latest In Trimmings.

Much of the effect from small tassels as dress trimmings depends upon their being heavy enough to vibrate from their own weight. A tassel of fine silk has not body enough to do this. Hence the knowing choose such ornaments when made from heavy silk cord. There will be a number of new garnitures in the way of embroideries, and buttons will also be extremely popular.

Skirts are being trimmed with two rows of buttons down the front. The two rows extend directly down the middle of the front, and for this purpose small but very expensive buttons are employed. They are of gold, beautifully set with mock gems of blue and red and green to imitate turquoise, the emerald and the ruby. Some of these buttons cost $5 each and frequently $2 each.

Foulards are going to be more popular than even last season. Blue has hitherto been the chief favorite, but now all colors are distinctly in vogue. Blues will, however, retain much of their former favor and will appear with white embellishments. Black and white, with a touch of color, will also be much worn.

Beiges and light browns will have a great rage for street wear in spring. Indeed, brown is coming conspicuously into style. The bronze or greenish brown is the newest of all and the most effective.

A Handsome Costume.

The costume represented is in satin and pastel blue muslin. The corsage is cut very low over a yoke of muslin to match, plaited with a large bow on the chest and is pointed at the waist both before and behind. The skirt has a short tunic and is trimmed with yellow guipure and a frilled flounce edged with guipure round the bottom.—Paris Herald.

Spring Styles Satisfactory Suits

Proves the success of our clothing trade. They are suits that sell themselves. The customer sees them, selects his size and the sale is made. This can only be done when suits have an outward appearance of goodness. We will vouch for the inside of them for the wear they will give. We know that the material is good and that they are well made. If you think our knowledge wrong you get your money returned. Do you not think that the suits will be satisfactory. Could we afford to back them up if they would not stand the guarantee. Reason it out.

NEWS FROM NEARBY TOWNS

COVELO, March 20.

Since our recent hard storms we have been having lovely weather. Our valley never looked better; the early grain looks fine and there is sufficient moisture in the ground to bring out the late grain. The stock is in good condition and plenty of feed on the ranges to keep them fat all summer.

A man named Harris was brot before Judge Cummins to-day for unlawfully killing deer. It was a jury trial and the jury "hung." The Judge promptly dismissed the jury and set the trial for the 22nd inst., but Mr. Harris concluded that the easiest way out of his trouble would be to plead guilty, which he did and was fined $20.

J. S. Redwine received a dispatch to-day to the effect that the U. S. Grand Jury had ignored the charges preferred against him for embezzlement while he was postmaster here.

We believe that this action of the grand jury meets with the hearty approval of the people here as no one here believed that Mr. Redwine committed the crime.

We noticed a communication from Covelo signed "Samanthy" which states that two of our popular people were to be married on March 17, but we have made diligent inquiry and can find no one that knows any thing about any wedding. One party told your scribe that old Jim Chinaman and a squaw were the persons referred to. Some of our people feel indignant at the idea that they should be represented as popular people of this community when they are not even popular with the indians.

The Presbyterian Aid Society gave a social which was a grand success both socially and financially.

The Methodists, not to be outdone by the rest of the world, concluded to give their pastor a genuine surprise, which they did last night by giving him a good supply of grub. Now I wonder what "Samanthy" will have to say about this, seeing that the good people of the valley are doing their best to build up the country and make people happy and contented.

Isn't that a funny idea the Republicans have about Porto Rico? They are U. S. territory or they are not? If those southern isles are territory of this country, then Congress has no more right to put a tariff tax on them than she has to tax New Mexico. But we must remember that $ Hanna & Co. must have money. They are not in this business for their health and patriotism is an unknown feeling to them and obeying the Constitution is a thing not to be thot of when it stands in their way. If Congress can levy a tariff tax on the products of Porto Rico it can with as much propriety levy a tariff tax on the products of California, and oh, what a howl would be set up by the people of this State if they had to pay a tariff tax for the privilege of selling their products in St. Louis or Chicago. Let the republicans have rope enough; they will hang themselves.

We see that some of your correspondents are making favorable mention of Mr. Joyce for the Assembly this fall. Now we, of Round valley, have nothing against Mr. Joyce. We don't know him, but we know J. B. and if he can be prevailed upon to run again we promise him a larger majority than he got last election, and we hope that he will reconsider his resolution and consent to run and have another walk over. If, however, Mr. Sanford does not want the office, we are in favor of Joyce, as he is a young man and comes highly recommended.

BOONVILLE BUDGET.

BOONVILLE, March 26.

As you have had no letter from Boonville for the last two weeks, I thot I would write a few lines. I expected to hear of Uriar Heap again but as there is no supervisor talk in this section now I think he has nothing to write about.

C. A. Yordi, our popular merchant, made a hasty trip to the county seat yesterday. He didn't say what he was going for, but the supposition is he went after "Grubb."

George Lambert and John Wallach met with an accident Saturday. They were breaking a colt and in crossing a bridge the horse stepped in a hole, throwing them both out. They both received injuries but not serious.

Mrs. J. B. Sanders is very sick at her home in Peachland.

We have three saloons in Boonville now, and hence merry times on Sunday for those that indulge in such pleasure. I think it speaks very poorly for the moral standing of our little place, three saloons and only two churches with services only every other Sunday.

Ed Irish and C. W. Sherwood attended League Sunday evening with a brand new girl each. How about it, boys.

PAUL JONES.

Will Prosecute Claims.

Last week there appeared in the Mendocino Beacon a notice stating that the Discount Bank would pay deposits on demand. Seeing this notice McGarvey & Bledsoe delivered to Wells, Fargo & Co. the accounts of four depositors, Antonio Caelho, Herman Alitalo and J. Hansen, of Caspar, and N. H. Lermond, of Greenwood, all amounting to $974.65, with instructions to present them to the bank for payment. The accounts were presented but they were not paid. The bank offered to pay $816.63; being $158.02 less than the amount of principal and interest due. McGarvey & Bledsoe rejected the offer and will prosecute the claims of their clients in the courts to recover the full amount due.
